DAMAGE SUITS
ON OIL LEASES

To Seek Recovery of Millions From Sinclair on Ground That Profits Were Illegally Made.

SALT CREEK PLOT TO COME FIRST

Royalty on More Than 20 Million Barrels of Petroleum Is Object of Civil Action.

Washington, December 14.—(AP)—Intention of the government to institute fraud proceedings to recover profits collected under the Harry F. Sinclair contract for the government's royalty oil in the Salt Creek, Wyo., field was disclosed to the senate lands committee today by William J. Donovan, assistant to the attorney general.

The contract was let originally by Albert B. Fall, as secretary of interior in 1922, and the government now proposes, Mr. Donovan testified, to charge fraud in the award of the contract and named both men and the Sinclair Crude Oil Purchasing company, the Sinclair Pipe Line company and the Mammoth Oil company.

Senate Body Is Informed.
The assistant attorney general volunteered this information while on the committee witness stand for questioning as to his inquiry into the Sinclair contract for the Salt Creek oil which was declared void by the department of justice last October. He said the government's petition case would be filed shortly and already would have been in the court except for the senate investigation.

Although the Sinclair contract was cancelled last October immediately after the department of justice ruling that it was invalid, Mr. Donovan said the government would institute the fraud proceedings in an effort to recover all profits collected by the Sinclair interests over the almost six-year period in which the contract was in effect.

How large a sum is involved has not been estimated but it is believed the profits will amount into the millions of dollars. More than 20,000,000 barrels of oil were taken from the field by the Sinclair interests under the contract.

Inquiry Is Started.
Mr. Donovan was called to the stand by Senator Walsh, democrat, Montana, to tell of the six months study by the department of the Sinclair contract which was renewed last February by Secretary Work of the interior department. He said the case was received from the attorney-general last March after President Coolidge had suggested an inquiry into the renewal of the contract.

He also said Senator Walsh had been called in to discuss the case and declared "we agreed that it would be difficult to invalidate the contract unless fraud could be shown." He quoted Senator Walsh as saying at that conference that it would be difficult to show fraud.

The Montana senator asked Donovan whether any of the information on which the contract later was declared void was then in the possession of the department and at their disposal and the witness replied they did not have this information at the time of the conference.

The exchange between the senator and Donovan became quite pointed at one time when Walsh asked if the ruling of the department was not issued.

Anxiety Rekindled

Ruler's Condition Less Favorable Than at Any Time Since Operation, Bulletins Say.

YOUNGEST PRINCE
SAILS FOR HOME

Gloom Hangs Heavy Over Palace on 33rd Birthday of Duke of York; London Worried.

London, December 15.—(Saturday)—(United News.)—"The king's condition is unchanged since the evening bulletin; all is quiet," the United News was informed at Buckingham palace at 4:20 a. m. today.

The condition of King George was less encouraging than any time in the last 48 hours.

The night bulletin issued at 8:15 p. m. said:

"The king had a somewhat disturbed day. His general condition was not quite so satisfactory. The pulse, however, remains steady."

(Signed) "STANLEY HEWETT, 'HUGH RIGHT, 'HAWSON OF PENN."

This disturbing bulletin came at the end of the 48-hour period when the operation of Wednesday night, when a drain was placed in the king's chest to remove pus which had formed there. Medical experts had said last night that if the king maintained through today the improvement which was noted on Thursday, the outlook would be favorable despite the likelihood of a prolonged illness.

Conversely, they had said, if the improvement were not maintained the outlook would be grave.

Anxiety Returns.
The announcement of the physicians, which was interpreted as indicating that his majesty had lost ground in his stubborn fight for life, replaced with deep anxiety the feeling of encouragement which had been prevalent since yesterday morning.

The day had been a quiet one at the palace, despite the fact it was the 33rd birthday of the Duke of York, second son of King George and Queen Mary and next to the Prince of Wales in order of succession to the throne.

The duke called early at the palace, leaving before noon. A little later Viscount Lascelles and Princess Mary arrived at the palace, and soon

$240,000 URGED
FOR EXPANSION OF CITY AIRPORT

Committee To Present Recommendations Calling for Development of Candler Field.

A program for development of Candler field, calling for an estimated investment of $240,000, was approved Friday afternoon by the airport committee of city council, and will be presented to council by the committee as a basis upon which a class "A" airport can be built.

The committee decided to recommend to the 1929 city council as the retiring 1928 airport committee that a field manager be engaged, and that, most important of all, the option be taken up and the field purchased from the Candler for $100,000.

The general outline of the proposed extension of Candler field calls for grading of the field and the addition of enough land to give two 2,700-foot runways, a 2,800-foot runway and a 3,800-foot runway. Grading plans call for excavation of approximately 300,000 yards of dirt and rock and depositing the dirt thus acquired in the low places.

Expansion Plans.
Under the proposed expansion plans, a concrete "apron" would be constructed 200 feet wide in front of the hangar line, and additional hangar space would be provided. A public park would be laid out in the northern end of the property, fronting Virginia avenue, and the park would include baseball diamonds, tennis courts and a small lake.

All of the territory within the race track oval, south of the hangar line, would be leveled off so that not more than a one per cent grade would exist from the center of the ridge, which does not run through the field, and the section of the field would be taken in up to the Whipple avenue, according to the plan approved by the committee. The longest runway would be from the southeast to the northwest.

James G. Ray, operations manager of Pitcairn Aviation, Inc., told the committee that additional hangar space will be needed by his firm in the near future, as the company plans bringing three tri-motored Ford planes here next May for passenger service. Approximately $75,000 will be spent by Pitcairn in hangar development, as the new hangar will be about three times the size of the present hangar, he said.

Field Will Be Cramped.
Ray told the committee that the field, as it stands now, would be cramped for the tri-motored planes in view of the increasing traffic here. The turtle-back formation in the field is dangerous, providing a collision hazard, he said.

Alfred W. B. Hartsfield, chairman of the committee, said that his investigation has shown that no better site than Candler field is available for a municipal airport. The average time for traveling from the business district to the airport is 30 minutes for the majority of cities, and Candler field is only 20 minutes from the heart of Atlanta, he pointed out. From the Chicago airport to the Loop district requires an hour for an automobile, he said.

He warned the committee that the first thing to consider is the purchase of the field.

BUILDING PLANNED
BY SOUTHERN BELL

Six-Story Structure To Be Erected at Auburn Avenue and Ivy Street for $1,000,000.

Construction of a six-story building at an estimated cost of $1,000,000 will be begun by the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph company shortly after January 1, it became known Friday. The new building will be located at the corner of Ivy street and Auburn avenue, on the site of the old William L. Healey home. Details of the new building were announced in The Constitution at the time the property was purchased, about one month ago.

While present plans of the company contemplate only a six-story building, a building permit issued at city hall Friday called for a 25-story edifice at a cost of about $5,500,000. It was explained by company officials, however, that present plans did not go beyond the six-story unit, and that the larger permit was merely obtained as a matter of protection in the event that future expansion of the territory

People Grow Less Belligerent as Kellogg Offers Pan-American Council as Mediation Body.

WAR IS UNLIKELY,

League of Nations Sends Notes Asking Amicable Settlement; Treatment Flatters Nationals.

La Paz, Bolivia, December 14.—(United News.)—"The tension which has gripped Bolivia for more than a week after the first crisis in the boundary dispute with Paraguay began to alleviate today."

Although outbursts of patriotic and martial feeling continued sporadically, there has been a noticeable easing-off of the war spirit in the last 24 hours. There were strong indications the Bolivian people soon would lose much of the pent-up feeling against their neighbor republic and return to a more normal routine.

The government has announced no change in attitude, but it was generally believed it will ask only for what it considers adequate reparation, hoping thus to avoid an open conflict with Paraguay.

PAN-AMERICAN MEET OFFERS CONCILIATION.
Washington, December 14.—(United News.)—Moving rapidly to avert a Bolivian-Paraguayan war, Secretary of State Kellogg, chairman of the Inter-American conference on conciliation and arbitration, tonight sent identical notes to the two governments offering the offices of the conference in promoting suitable conciliatory measures.

Kellogg's action followed quickly upon the adoption by the conference assembled in extraordinary plenary session of a resolution precluding the special committee of mediation dealing with the Bolivian-Paraguayan crisis authorizing such a tender of good offices.

The resolution which was adopted

Albany, Ga., December 14.—(Special.)—No longer does the bronze Confederate soldier stand guard atop the Confederate monument of this city. It was toppled from its pedestal and wrecked completely today.

Miss Elsie Lee, of this city, who recently came home from Agnes Scott college, at Atlanta, is the cause of it all.

Driving her automobile at a terrific rate of speed, estimated at 60 miles an hour, she careened down the main thoroughfare, scattering pedestrians, forcing motorists to the curbs, and crashed the monument head on. The stopping of her mad drive was

Being Treeless Now No Bar

Department Store Will Sell You One of Any Type

BY ELMO HAMBY.
Maybe you've been standing by and watching the "Light the Living Trees" movement of The Constitution and the Camp Fire Girls, with interest, but it didn't particularly concern you, since you can buy one.

Just like that. A tree already to be set out in any front yard.

Trees of all sizes from one foot to some as high as five feet. Beautiful Norway spruces. Cedars. Evergreens. All kinds.

The Christmas Tree Editor of Friday happened to be strolling through a big department store downtown, when lo and behold! there stood a miniature forest in the midst of all the other hundred thousand things you can find in a department store.

Salesmen explained that the trees, which are furnished with a great clump of soil in a large pot, may be kept for some time inside the house, living in the bucket, so that if you want a real, living Christmas tree inside your house this Yuletide, you can have it, and then plant the tree after old Saint Nicholas has made his annual chimney descent.

ARGENTINE REDS

GOES SIGHTSEEING

Anti-American Outbursts Fail To Develop Again; Crowds Acclaim President-Elect.

Buenos Aires, December 14.—(AP)—President-elect Hoover went sight-seeing through the streets of the capital and appeared at several receptions here today. There was no recurrence of anti-American demonstrations.

Mayor Cantillo conducted Mr. Hoover this morning on a round of visits to such prominent spots in the city as the post office building, Palermo park, where stands a monument to George Washington, police and fire headquarters and the internationally known avenues of Callao Mayo and Costanera.

Mr. Hoover called at the United States embassy in the afternoon and went from there amid the acclaim of crowds which nearly equalled those of his arrival day, to the government house. He was accompanied by Mayor Cantillo, United States Ambassador Bliss and the chief of police.

President Yrigoyen was waiting to shake hands with the president-elect and introduced him to the ministers of his cabinet. The conversation was general, but finally Mr. Hoover, President Yrigoyen and his foreign minister formed a separate group which discussed for a long time affairs touching on their respective countries.

Five hundred persons gathered in the Plaza hotel in the late afternoon to shake hands with Mr. and Mrs. Hoover when they appeared as guests of the American colony.

La Prensa in an editorial today said that Mr. Hoover is a representative of a democracy which is distinguished among the nations for its model civil organization and the great inclusion it has given to human progress. The newspaper expressed the belief that this unprecedented tour of Latin America would help the moral understanding of the hemisphere.

Detroit Police Report
Capture of Pair in "Nothing Flat."

Detroit, Mich., December 14.—(Special.)—Station WDFN, the Detroit police department broadcasting station, reported that a pair of burglars was captured in a "Nothing Flat."

"We have had flu here for three weeks, and I believe that this week's death toll from all diseases and causes will show a slight decline," he declared. "It is true that reports of influenza have increased during the past two weeks, but I'm inclined to believe that the increase is only a temporary one."

Turning to the figures for this week last fall, Dr. Kennedy showed that numerous cases of flu were reported in Atlanta.

"There's no question but that the thing we are calling flu is going to remain with us until next spring," he said, "because winter is the natural season of bad colds, of pneumonia and kindred ailments. The best way to take care of ourselves is to stop the cravens' exaggeration and take care of ourselves in a safe and sane manner."

FLORIDA BLAMED

Deflation of Land Values "Greatly Depreciated" Firm's Assets, Frank Adair Says on Stand.

Gainesville, Ga., December 14.—(AP)—Deflation of Florida real estate values "greatly depreciated" the assets of the defunct Adair Realty and Trust company, Frank Adair, one of four officers of the firm on trial in federal court here charged with use of the mails to defraud, testified today in his own behalf.

The Adair show houses and the Whitfield estates in Florida also were subject to discussion during the testimony of Frank Adair, who followed his father, Forrest Adair, Sr., to the stand.

Failure to accept an offer of a million and a half for the firm's Florida holdings at the peak of the boom was described by the witness as "bad judgment."

Trial of the four officials, Forrest Adair, Sr., Frank Adair, Forrest Adair, Jr., and Evans A. Erwin, which has been under way since November 21, was threatened for a short time by the witness as "bad judgment."

Dr. Maurice Fishbein And
Surgeon General Cumming
Advise Simple Flu Remedy'Flu' Reports
Exaggerated,
Says Kennedy

Real Epidemic Here Is One of Hysteria, Doctor Says.

Chicago, December 14.—(AP)—The present sweep of influenza over the country is one of the minor outbreaks which regularly occur between major epidemics, Dr. Morris Fishbein, editor of the Journal of the American Medical association, said in a statement today.

Dr. Fishbein discussed the probable causes of the spread of the infection and gave suggestions for treatment.

"Under modern conditions of civilization it is practically impossible for any human being to avoid contact with others for any considerable period of time," said Dr. Fishbein. "Authorities on school hygiene are agreed generally that, except under special circumstances, schools should remain open. There was convincing proof during the 1918 epidemic that the closing of schools, theaters, churches, moving picture shows or business establishments did not influence the spread of the disease, and in large communities little, if anything, is gained by closing such places."

"The only possible scientific advice relative to the care of the disease is essentially simple, since there are no specific measures and since the condition must be handled as the various symptoms develop. The person who is sick should go to bed immediately and should have the attention of a competent physician. It is probably well that he be isolated more or less in the home and that measures be taken to provide that he does not spread the disease by coughing and sneezing, and that he does not use the same towels, napkins, drinking cup and eating utensils as other members of the family."

"Since the patient is likely to have a chill or to feel chilly, warm drinks, such as hot tea or lemonade or orange juice are comforting and support his strength. Hot water, bags at the feet are helpful. He should have plenty of water."

"After the severe symptoms have subsided, he should be given plenty of food to restore his strength, since the disease produces prostration. The patient should be kept warm, but sufficient fresh air and sunlight should be given."

IN MISSISSIPPI

Jackson, Miss., December 14.—(AP)—Perry W. Howard, negro republican patronage head of Mississippi, and four other republican leaders were cleared of charges of conspiracy to violate the federal patronage act today. The five were acquitted by a jury verdict in federal court here at 2:30 p. m.

Accused of the charge with Howard were S. D. Redmond, A. M. Redmond and Ed L. Patton, negro lawyers of Jackson, and J. Scott Hubbard, white, suspended deputy marshal in the southern Mississippi jurisdiction.

The jury held the case for 20 hours before reporting to Judge Edwin L. Holmes shortly before 2 o'clock that they were ready to be received in court.

The verdict was announced by Miller McGilchrist, special assistant attorney general of the United States, sitting in the prosecution, said that the outcome of this case involving the southern district marshals would not affect the prosecution of several other cases of similar nature pending.

COMPROMISE ENDS
RECORD DEADLOCK
BY 64-TO-16 VOTE2 VOTES NEEDED
TO VERIFY ACT

Both California and Colorado Yield Points To Secure Passage of Bill Appropriating 165 Millions.

Washington, December 14.—(AP)—The Swing-Johnson bill for a huge flood control, irrigation and power project on the Colorado river to cost $165,000,000 was passed by the senate late today after a controversy that has extended throughout the better part of two administrations.

The measure, popularly known as the Boulder Canyon Dam bill, was approved by a vote of 64 to 16. It now must go to conference to compose differences between the bill passed by the house last session and the one acted upon today by the senate.

If a favorable vote is taken by both house and senate on the conference report, the measure will be sent to President Coolidge who, sponsors of the bill believe, is in sympathy with its general provisions.

The scope of the measure as it concerns storage and use of water for reclamation and flood control works is among the most stupendous ever passed upon by congress. It proposes construction at the Black Canyon site in the Colorado river of a dam almost twice as large as any in existence. This structure would provide water for irrigation in the seven state of the Colorado river basin. A power plant would be built at the dam to generate thousands of horsepower of energy for electrical uses in many localities of the west.

In addition, the measure would provide for flood control works for the protection of Imperial valley in southern California, and also for construction of an all-American canal across southern California from the Colorado river to bring irrigating waters into the valley.

Party lines were obliterated in the final vote on passage. The roll call was as follows:

GAS TAX COLLECTIONS TO TOTAL $8,250,000

Largest Amount Ever Received Shown in Estimate of Comptroller.

Gasoline taxes collected in Georgia in 1928 will total approximately $8,250,000, according to estimates made public Friday by General William A. Wright, state comptroller. This is the largest amount ever collected from this source in Georgia in one year, according to William B. Harrison, chief clerk, who compiled the figures.

The first year a tax was imposed on gasoline in Georgia was in 1922, when a tax of one cent a gallon produced a total revenue of $739,000, about one-eighth of the revenue derived in 1928 from the tax of four cents a gallon.

Money derived from the gasoline tax is turned over to the state highway department for maintenance of roads and road construction, with the exception of one-half cent on each gallon, which goes to the public schools. This means that the roads will receive $7,218,750 and the schools $1,031,250 this year.

CHRISTMAS PARTY HELD BY FAMILIES OF LINWOOD AVE.

A Christmas party that brought together many of the 250 families of the Linwood avenue section for an old-fashioned frolic was a feature of Friday night in the auditorium of Highland school. G. C. McWhirter, president of the Linwood Community League, under whose auspices the party was staged, presided as master of ceremonies.

The Woodcrafters staged an exciting and entertaining amateur play under direction of Chief Guide R. K. Habbington.

Paul T. Arnold led in community singing of Christmas carols, accompanied by Mrs. Harry O. Mitchell.

Mrs. Mitchell also presented an interesting reading on the history and tradition of carols.

A Santa Claus in full regalia distributed attractive gifts to the neighborhood kiddies. Several attractive prizes were presented to the winners. These included tickets to the Grand theater, courtesy of the management, tickets to the Georgia, presented by N. E. Savini, and a number of souvenirs donated by enterprising Atlanta merchants.

MANLEY CREDITORS TO MEET DEC. 22 WITH HARRY DODD

A meeting of the W. D. Manley creditors has been called for 10 o'clock the morning of December 22 in the office of Harry Dodd, referee in bankruptcy, for a hearing on applications for allowances out of the estate. It was announced Friday.

J. D. Robinson, trustee, asks his commission on the estate estimated at $285,000, which amounts to $2,950.

Howell, Heyman and Bolding, attorneys for the trustee, ask a final allowance of $10,000 and J. C. Murphy, an income tax expert, is asking compensation for services in the amount of $15,000.

Dr. L. O. Bricker, pastor of the Peachtree Christian church, will express his views about modern youth in a special sermon which he is to deliver at the church Sunday morning and which all young people are urged to hear.

Dr. Bricker does not hold with the pessimists who consider that modern youth is blameworthy for a large part of the "revolt" of which so much is heard. He contends that it is, chiefly, a good move, being a revolt against social "shams" and moral inconsistencies.

Buenos Aires Architecture Gayest He Ever Saw, Writes Will Irwin, on Hoover Tour

Modern Buildings Impress Commentator More Than Classic Cathedral; A Worthy Capital.

BY WILL IRWIN.
Special Cable Dispatch to The Atlanta Constitution and the North American Newspaper Alliance.
Buenos Aires, December 14.—The train bearing President-elect Hoover and his party traveled a full day through the pampas without seeing a single hill.

glances of a day, is worthy to be the capital of an empire so rich and unique as Argentine is. You approach it through smart, ornate, garden suburbs, passing magnificent race courses and sporting clubs and getting a view of the brown River Plata, stretching to the horizon, with its panorama of ships.

This metropolis of nearly two and a half millions of people lies with charming irregularity over the hills and along the little peninsula of its harbor. The richer and more interesting part rose on the site of the old Spanish city. The streets, therefore, are narrow and irregular and in that circumstance lies part of the city's charm.

Notes Gay Architecture.
It has the gayest architecture of any city I have ever seen. It has finer buildings as banks, great shops and public offices. They are French in general structure, but the native architects have decorated them with a flamboyant detail such as ornamental pillars, lacework carving, friezes and airy domes which outdo Madrid. That exuberance goes with the climate. It snows here only once in ten years. And though it never grows excessively hot in summer there is a bright and clear sun.

I find myself impressed not so much by the Plaza de Mayo, the old heart of the town, where stand the classic cathedral and the strange old building in which Argentine declared her independence, as by several modern buildings. Notable among these is a group of three nine or ten story structures dedicated to business which occupies a whole ample block in the center of the city.

Stores Keep Everything.
Then there is a department store where many of the official party went shopping today, in spite of the tropical heat of the journey. On first sight the store is just a pretty arcade of diverse and very smart shops, running through a massive building between two narrow streets.

Ask in the shops for anything you don't find and the clerk will lead you to a back door. You discover then that these apparent shops are but the show windows to a great department store which occupies the lower floors of the building. Above that for three or four stories are offices. And for the rest of the way to the garden on the roof are flats which are rented by the offices occupy. Furthermore in the basement floor is a theater and cabaret. The tenants can work, live and amuse themselves without stirring from their gigantic nest in the very center of the city.

This enterprise belongs to a Nord-American from Spokane, who came here nine years ago with two thousand pesos.

Like New York Mansions.
And all has behind it the assurance of enormous stability—that imperial pampas country which drips richness. About Plaza San Martin, where the great liberator sits on a prancing horse among weeping willows, lie great houses resembling, except for the luxurious gardens, the inner patios of the Vanderbilt and Astor mansions of New York, which lately disappeared mainly because the owners found them too much trouble.

Like all Spanish American countries, Argentine began with enormous estates granted to conquistadores by the king and which the estates first with slaves and then with peons. Peonage was never so much a part of the economic structure here as in some other southern countries and it passed long ago.

But while the cattle on the enormous estates formed the economic mainstay, the old-fashioned gaucho was content with small wages and an easy life. Then came the stage of more intensive agriculture. Labor was needed and poured in from all the Latin lands of Europe, especially from Italy. For some time Argentine has had a law like the French Napoleonic law of inheritance, requiring that the land be divided among all the heirs. But that naturally will not produce sensible changes for two or three generations.

There is always a froth on such movements as this. One manifestation of the anti-American propaganda—what there is of it—is like twisting the British lion's tail, which was the stock in trade of our cheap political orators 30 years ago. So plucking the American eagle's feathers is sometimes useful here.

Anarchists Minute Groups.
But let no American take all this seriously. It by no means represents the prevailing sentiment in the Argentine.

Another manifestation of the froth is the occasional anarchistic outrage. Here as elsewhere, militant and criminal anarchists are an extremely minute group. The anarchist arrested with a big bomb in his possession three days ago may or may not have meant it for Hoover. The police and the military authorities are rightly taking no chances.

The incident seems not to have perturbed Hoover. He spent this morning and part of the afternoon strolling about the town, absorbing its gay and generous flavor, calling on bankers, industrialists and publishers, even doing a little shopping.

And his expression would seem to indicate that he likes this town. He may well like it and approve of the population behind it—the people who have welcomed and cheered him so heartily.

No city so rich, so civilized, so well ordered and so beautiful could exist except by virtue of an able people.

CIVIL ENGINEERS GIVEN RECEPTION BY DIVISION HEAD
With several score members and their wives in attendance the president's reception of the Georgia division of the American Society for Civil Engineers was held Friday night at the home of Robert S. Fiske, of 641 Bonaventure avenue, head of the division.

Brief addresses were made by C. C. Whitaker, consulting engineer for the city; O. R. Kaufman, city bridge engineer, and P. M. McDonald. Refreshments were served and several entertainment features were provided.

Showers Cease, Fine Week-End Is on Schedule

Following a day or so of rather uncertain weather, during which time general cloudiness has prevailed and a few showers were recorded, prospects for a more or less perfect week-end seem good, according to the forecast of the local United States weather bureau, which states that clear and moderately cooler weather will be on tap here for the next day or so.

Temperatures Friday ranged from a minimum of 53 up to 61 later in the afternoon and today's extremes are expected to be approximately 40 and 56.

ALLEGED ROBBER OF WOMAN HELD PENDING PROBE

Following the robbery early Friday night of Mrs. Robert C. Hampton, of 2705 Peachtree road, as she drove along Peachtree near the Brookwood station, "Tall" Morris, a young negro, was being held at police headquarters on suspicion in connection with this and other such attacks recently committed on the north side of the city.

Mrs. Hampton told Detectives Davis and Whitley and Call Officer Ginn and McGarity that she had been downtown shopping, had stopped for a time at a friend's apartment on her way home and at about 7 o'clock had resumed her drive home.

After she had gone a few blocks she said she noticed that there seemed to be a weight pulling the car over to the left. Stopping the car she leaned out over the door to look at the running board and as she did so a man who had been lying on it rose up and seized her by the throat.

She screamed and he struck her across the mouth. After a few more seconds of struggling he grasped her purse containing about $8 and escaped before her screams could bring aid.

A few minutes after being given the account of the attack by Mrs. Hampton, Detectives Davis and Whitley found Morris loitering about Brookwood station and arrested him after learning that he had a few minutes before tried to get a taxicab driver to take him into the city.

Officers indicated that Morris also was under suspicion of an attack committed some months ago on Argonne avenue, near Ponce de Leon.

LANGUAGE SCHOOL Classes To Suspend for Christmas Holidays.

The School of Modern Languages being conducted under auspices of the Atlanta Foreign Trade club will discontinue its activities from December 17 to January 2 for the Christmas holidays. It was announced Friday by Dr. George Raffalovich, dean.

BOND BODY APPROVES LOFTIS PLUMBING BID

Matter To Reach City Council Again at Monday's Session.

Award of ten school plumbing contracts to W. S. Loftis, whose low bid was rejected at the last meeting of city council, was reaffirmed Friday by the Atlanta bond commission at its regular meeting at the city hall. The contract award was reaffirmed Monday by the joint contact committee, and on Wednesday passed the board of education. The matter will be presented to city council again at Monday's session.

The bond commission approved the enlargement of bronze name plates and pediments for the Pryor and Central avenue viaducts at an additional cost of $400. The larger name plates and pediments were needed through the increased number of names to be placed on the plates, it was said.

The commission also approved the employment of an additional engineer to make estimates on the adjustment of buildings to the viaduct levels. Payment of a bill of $4,544.75 by the water department for repairing and replacing sidewalks and driveways on Hemphill avenue between North avenue and the pumping station was authorized by the commission. The sidewalks and driveways were torn up to provide for the laying of a 36-inch water main.

ATLANTA SCHOOLS LIKELY TO LOSE COLLEGE STANDING

A warning that high school girls and boys of Atlanta may be forced to pass special examination before entering freshmen year at college if the city does not remedy the overcrowding of the high schools and obtain additional teachers, February 1 was contained in a letter received Friday by senior high school principals from Dr. J. S. Stewart, Georgia representative of the Southern Association of Accredited Schools.

The Southern Association of Colleges will drop the Atlanta high schools from their eligible entry list unless the situation is corrected, Dr. Stewart wrote. Reports from the committee which reviewed the Georgia schools were that the members did not believe that a similar condition could be found anywhere else in the south, Dr. Stewart said.

The letter declared that the administrative authorities should be called upon to make the necessary arrangements to correct the condition.

ALL HANDS TAKEN FROM LINER CELTIC AS GALE FRESHENS

London, December 14.—(AP)—A radio message received by Lloyd's today said that all hands had been removed from the liner Celtic, which is on the rocks at the entrance to Cork harbor. The skeleton crew which had been left aboard was taken off during the night because of rough weather.

A radio message from a special officer aboard the salvage steamer Restorer said that there was an increase in a gale which had been blowing from the southeast and that this and the heavy sea made it impossible for any craft to remain alongside. The salvage workers were therefore compelled to discontinue work aboard the Celtic and all agreed that it was most prudent to remove all hands.

$285,000,000 INTERIOR MAINTENANCE BILL PASSED BY HOUSE

Washington, December 14.—(AP)—The house late today passed the interior appropriation bill carrying approximately $285,000,000 for the firing activities of that department. The measure now goes to the senate.

The measure provides $221,000,000 for army and navy pensions, more than $100,000,000 for Indian affairs and further millions for reclamation, national parks and education.

Changes made in the bill as it was reported from the committee were an increase of from $22,000 to $100,000 a provision for suppressing the liquor traffic among Indians; a reappropriation of $1,000,000 of unexpended balance for continuing construction of the Kittitas division of the Yakima reclamation project in the state of Washington and the making available immediately of $250,000 of a $1,000,000 authorization for acquisition of privately owned lands in Yosemite National park.

The house today received another big supply bill—the agriculture department appropriations measure, carrying $145,000,000—from its committee and this will be its next order of business.

MOTHER GETS LIFE FOR SLAYING BABY OF FOUR MONTHS

Chicago, December 14.—(AP)—For the murder of her four-month-old baby daughter, Mrs. Catherine Zalis, 21-year-old mother of two other babies, must spend the remainder of her life in the state hospital for the insane at Elgin, unless she becomes cured.

A jury today convicted her, but found that she was insane at the time of the murder last April and was still insane, recommending her commitment to the state hospital. The judge acted on the jury's recommendations and ordered the young mother taken at once to Elgin.

LIQUOR IS BLAMED FOR NEGRO'S DEATH IN PISTOL BATTLE

An unidentified negro was shot and almost instantly killed in a gun battle which occurred early Friday night on Jephtha street, near West Hunter. According to witnesses, the man was shot by another negro, Clarence Allen, who escaped. Witnesses also stated that the quarrel which culminated in the fatal shooting was started over a liquor transaction. Supporting this theory were several gallons of whiskey found by Call Officers Higgins and Cartwright in an automobile abandoned near the scene.

The OBOY GANG—OBOY PUDDING! AND THE GANG'S NOT INVITED . . .

OBOY BREAD

THE BREAD THAT'S DEDICATED TO ALL CHILDREN BECAUSE IT'S SO GOOD FOR THEM

WINTER days bring more and more indoor days. And appetites begin to dwindle. Two things will help to keep those rosy cheeks. Appetizing food. Wholesome, extra-nutritious food. Oboy bread is both.

Serve it as a bread pudding. For a sandwich-and-cocoa supper—how kids do love that. Crisp brown toast for breakfast, with plenty of golden butter. And as just good bread and butter any time anybody's hungry.

Oboy bread is full of flavor—a taste all its own. Its delicate crust, its snow-white center, its delightful firmness make it one of the most popular loaves of bread that ever came out of an oven. And the closely knit texture not only keeps it fresher longer—it also makes the best toast you ever tasted. Buy Oboy bread at any grocery.

Catarrrh is Most Common Cause of Colds and Flu

Find a man, woman or child who is afflicted with chronic catarrh of the nose and its connecting air passages and you will always find a patient who is most susceptible to serious diseases. Why? Science explains that catarrh interferes with natural breathing thus preventing proper oxygenation and purification of the blood by the lungs and also absolutely prevents, restful, refreshing sleep. Catarrh is a constant drain upon the nutrition of the body, making the patient weak and thereby susceptible to all germ infections such as colds, flu, pneumonia, etc.

Your physician will tell you that catarrh is a local condition, not a systemic disease. You must fight it constantly with a local remedy that reaches the spot. Of the many remedies that have been tested for the relief of catarrh, none has given such uniformly successful results to the physician or attained such popular favor as the prescription of Dr. R. H. B. Blakeley's White Wonder Salve. Applied in the nostrils, morning and night, "White Wonder" gives quick and most delightful relief. Clean, greaseless and absolutely stainless, White Wonder is a perfect example of the finest pharmaceutical art—a joy and comfort to everyone who suffers with nasal catarrh.

Charles E. Thomas, of 1129 Highland avenue, N. E., secured a permit for a 40-unit apartment house to be erected of brick at 1135-1137 Highland avenue, N. E., at a cost of $160,000. This building will have five-room apartments, and will be two stories with a basement.

Mr. Thomas also obtained permits for a one-story garage and store at 1151 Amsterdam avenue, N. E., at a cost of $11,500; and a one-story brick store at 1180-95 Lanier boulevard, N. E., at a cost of $12,000.

C. R. Turner obtained a permit for a $45,000 apartment building, containing 18 three and four-room apartments, at 61 East Seventeenth street. This building will have two stories and a basement. J. ## BOGUS POWER CO. INSPECTOR NAMED IN LARCENY COUNTS

Charged with having gained entrance to a number of homes by impersonating an inspector for the Georgia Power company, N. E. Williams, 24, was indicted Friday on three counts by the Fulton county grand jury. Williams is charged with larceny from the homes.

According to Solicitor General John A. Boykin, Williams would call at a home, say he was an inspector desirous of looking over the house's lighting apparatus and while so doing would help himself to any valuables lying about.

Williams is alleged to have taken a diamond ring valued at $500 from the home of T. D. Henderson, 1008 Courtland drive; a watch valued at $30 from the home of J. W. Green, 150 East avenue; and 75 cents in cash from the home of Lorimer Clayton, 154 Fifth street.

J. R. Maddox and his wife, registered at a small downtown hotel, were indicted for larceny from the person. The complaining witness was J. W. Smith, who said they had taken $320 from him while he was asleep.

SPEEDING IS HELD NO BAR TO RIGHT TO COMPENSATION

The court of appeals Friday held that the fact that an automobile driver was violating a state speed law at the time when he was killed by collision of the machine and a train does not defeat the right of his dependents to recover compensation.

The ruling arose when the widow of William H. Carroll, traveling man, killed at Alma last July, appealed to a decision by the superior court which upheld the action of the state industrial commission in dismissing her action because it was alleged Carroll was driving "about 60 miles an hour" at the time of the collision.

The appellate court ruled that because a driver may be violating a criminal law of the state in not having his vehicle under control and at a speed of 10 miles an hour at a grade crossing, such conduct does not constitute wilful failure nor refusal to perform duty as required by the law.

Carroll, a representative of the Atlantic Ice and Coal corporation, was driving alone to Jacksonville from Atlanta at the time of the accident. The appellate court ruled the superior court judge should have sustained Mrs. Carroll's appeal from the decision of the industrial commission.

Jinx Again Trails Walska, Trying To Sing in Chicago, As She Suffers With Flu

Illness Climaxes Series of Misfortunes Which Beset Diva in Efforts To Show Talents.

Chicago, December 14.—(P)—The latest of a series of jinx-like misfortunes which have beset Madame Ganna Walska, in private life the wife of Harold McCormick, in her every attempt to sing in Chicago today held her abed with influenza.

The announcement less than 48 hours before she was to appear in concert here that the event was postponed indefinitely because the singer is suffering from influenza has recalled several other scheduled appearances in the home city of her husband which failed to materialize despite the perseverance of the diva.

Her first disappointment came when in 1920 she was billed to appear in the title role of "Zaza" with the Chicago Opera company. Just before the curtain went up the announcement was made that Madame Walska would not appear and that a substitute would take her place. She at that moment was on a train speeding to New York. No explanation was given.

Three years later after she was married to Harold McCormick, a prominent banker of the opera here, she was again scheduled to sing in a concert at Orchestra hall in 1923, but again the concert was cancelled. At the same time there were reports she would join the Russian Opera company then touring the country, to sing in the "Snow Maiden" but instead she left for San Diego to rejoin her husband.

In 1923 she appeared as Gilda in "Rigoletto" before a Parisian audience but was not received kindly by the European critics. One remarked that "she was a beautiful woman." Another said "money can talk but it can't sing."

She had another venture with the San Carlo Opera company in 1925 when the manager announced that Madame Walska would not sing in Philadelphia but would give a performance in Detroit. In Detroit the event was again postponed and the venture finally was called.

In September of this year there were reports that Madame Walska was coming here for an operation on her throat. Then came the definite announcement of her concert at Orchestra hall here and today the cancellation.

Her first night in Chicago after an absence of five years was spent at the Chicago Civic opera in a box with her husband and close friends. Seated on the opposite side of the auditorium surrounded by another group were her husband's first wife, Edith Rockefeller McCormick.

Ganna Walska has had four matrimonial ventures. Her first was with a young Polish army officer who died during the war; the second with a Dr. Joseph Frankel, of New York, who also died; the third with the millionaire Alexander Smith, of New York, whom she divorced; and the fourth husband, a friend of her husband's, Harold McCormick.

STEAMER DISABLED, SCHOONER PICKS UP ITS 11 PASSENGERS

Seattle, Wash., December 14.—(P)—Radio advice here this morning said that the eleven passengers of the steamer Starr had been picked up from Dark Island by the schooner Oliver of Kodiak. The Starr's 21 officers and crew remained aboard the vessel, which will be taken in tow for Seward by the steamer Alameda.

The Starr broke a propeller shaft in the uncharted waters 175 miles from Seward last Wednesday when she struck a reef during a gale.

UNIFORM STANDARD OF AIR WORTHINESS URGED

Aero Conference Receives Resolution, But No Action Is Taken.

Washington, December 14.—(P)—A proposal by the Canadian delegation for a uniform standard of air worthiness in aircraft was presented today at the concluding business session of the international civil aeronautics conference. While a number of members viewed the suggestion favorably, no action was taken.

Before the conference wound up its business it also received a message from Japan expressing appreciation for the call of the gathering over the calling of the gathering by the United States.

The Canadian suggestion came in the form of a statement by G. J. Desjardins, Canadian deputy minister of national defense. He said that after the world war the allies drew up an international air convention which provided for uniform standards by all signatory nations in the manufacture of aircraft.

U. S. Has Not Ratified. This convention was not ratified, he said, by the United States, which set up its own standards for air worthiness requirements. In contrast to that, he continued, he continued that import aircraft in large numbers from the United States, with its own standard for air worthiness, and from other countries, which adhere to the provisions of the international air convention, some confusion has resulted.

"It is very desirable therefore," he added, "that these imported aircraft and aircraft parts should be built to the same standards as the aircraft actually manufactured in the importing country."

The good-will message from Japan was read by Setzuo Sawada, chief of the Japanese delegation, and expressed the admiration of the Japanese people for the great strides made by the United States in aviation.

After witnessing an exhibition of airplane maneuvers at Bolling field tomorrow the conference will end with a pilgrimage to Kitty Hawk, N. C., to participate in ceremonies at the place where Orville Wright, official guest of the conference, made the first powered heavier-than-air flight, 25 years ago.

Other papers presented today included one by Etienne Laroche, counsel of the Swiss legation in Washington, dealing with the feats of two pioneer aviators of Switzerland, Oscar Bider and Walter Mittelholzer. Bider and Mittelholzer, who flew in 1913, and later in the same year made the first successful flight over the Alps. Mittelholzer's flight was a series of flights into the polar regions.

Another paper, prepared by the Venezuelan legation, described the aerial advantages of Venezuela for aviation.

The conference ordered that messages of sympathy and best wishes be sent to King George, of Great Britain, and to General Italo Balbo, of Italy, who became ill in Dayton, Ohio, and was presented for medical treatment at the conference.

Captain Eduardo Laborde, of the Cuban army, at a conference session moved the adoption of Spanish as one of the official languages of any similar conference that might be held in the future, along with English and French. A formal action was taken on the motion.

DEATH SENTENCES AGAINST FOUR MEN UPHELD BY COURT

The supreme court Friday affirmed death sentences imposed by lower courts in capital offenses. The cases were those of a white man and three negroes.

Criff Grinstead was sentenced to death in the electric chair in Montgomery county for the killing of a white man and a negro. Grinstead is a white man and was an escaped convict at the time he killed Stucky. He was sentenced to serve a life term on his conviction of a previous murder. His attorneys filed a petition for a rehearing which was denied by the supreme court in an opinion written by Judge Price Gilbert.

Will Gilham, Ed Capers and Will Clarence, Georgia Airmen, were sentenced to death in the electric chair for the killing of a white man and a negro. They were convicted of killing Pat Dougherty, another negro in November, 1927.

PENSION WARRANTS TOTALING $500,000 ARE MAILED OUT

Pension warrants aggregating approximately $500,000, covering the total amount due Confederate pensioners for the last quarter of 1928, were drawn Friday by Governor Le G. Hardman and turned over to Captain John W. Clark, state pension commissioner, for distribution. The warrants are for the last quarter of 1928, when the money is paid direct to the pensioners by the county treasury.

This is the first time in many years that the pensioners received their full pensions for the year before the expiration of the year, it was learned at the capital.

Money to pay the warrants is available in the state treasury. It was announced Friday by Captain W. J. Sover, state treasurer.

The county ordinary's office announced Friday that payments to Fulton county veterans and widows already had begun. A total of $35,000 is paid in Fulton county each quarter. Claude C. Mason, deputy, said the office would be open from 8 a. m. until 1 p. m. today and that those unable to call during those hours would be paid any day next week.

VERDICT OF SUICIDE RETURNED IN DEATH OF GEORGE PROPPES

Verdict that he came to his death by his own hand, through drinking denatured alcohol and inhaling gas fumes was returned late Friday at a coroner's inquest into the death of George H. Proppes, 42, house painter of 249 Doane street, who was found dead Friday morning in the gas-filled kitchenette of an empty Ponce de Leon apartment.

Fred A. Proppes, the man's son, testified that his father had threatened to kill himself on several occasions. With his father missing from home since Tuesday, the son Friday morning instituted a search, and after forcing the door to the empty apartment where Proppes had been working, found the body in a small kitchenette. Two gas jets were open and a half-empty can of denatured alcohol was found by the body.

Proppes had five widow, three daughters and three sons. Funeral arrangements will be announced later by T. E. Bazemore company.

Georgia Power Takes Over Two Utilities in Augusta

Announcement that properties in Georgia of the Augusta-Aiken Railway & Electric corporation and the Georgia-Carolina Electric company have been bought by the Georgia Power company and will in future be operated as an integral part of that system was made here Friday by P. S. Arkwright, president of the latter company. Coupled with the announcement was the statement that F. B. Culley, vice president and general manager of the Augusta-Aiken company, will continue in charge, with the title of division manager of the newly-created Augusta division of the Georgia Power company.

The utilities involved in the new expansion of the Georgia Power company system supply electric light and power service to Augusta and 30 other Georgia communities in that section. Street railway service also is supplied in Augusta. Announcement of the acquisition of the Augusta properties follows soon after the acquisition by the Georgia Power company of the Macon Railway and Light company and other utilities serving Macon and eight other central Georgia communities, bringing the total number of cities and towns served by the Georgia Power company to approximately 200.

Municipalities Served. Georgia municipalities formerly served by the Augusta-Aiken company are: Augusta, Evans, Grovetown, Campania, Harlem, Dearborn, Thomson, Warren, Canaan, Norwood, Crawfordville, Sharon, Washington, Tignall, Lincoln, Martinez, Union Point, Gracewood, Hopewell, Kennesaw, Marietta, Marietta, Louisville, Wrens, Avera, Stapleton, Gibson, Mitchell, Neco and Zebina.

Commenting upon the new alignment of the Augusta properties and his company, Mr. Arkwright said:

"For some years there has been a persistent contention between the properties and those of the Augusta companies through the interconnection of our high tension electric transmission lines and through this arrangement we have been enabled to be mutually helpful on many occasions. In times of drought, particularly, this physical linking of the lines has made it possible for us to supply power to the Augusta territory, thereby preventing the slowing down of industries and inconvenience to all users of electricity as well."

Closer Alliance Effective. "The closer alliance now effective between the Georgia Power company and the Augusta utilities should prove of even greater advantage. It insures to Augusta and its territory for all time a dependable supply of power ample for all present needs and for future expansion. It will permit extension and improvement of service which could not be attempted in the past because of the lack of necessary new capital. Augusta now has back of it only the physical and financial resources of the Georgia Power company, but those of the Southeastern Power and Light company system as well."

Under the new arrangement Augusta's sphere of influence in the field of electric service in Georgia will be greater, rather than smaller, and the customers of the Augusta companies have a guarantee of continued good service in the fact that Mr. Culley will continue in charge. We hope to be able to assist him in giving even better service and we hope our new customers will find us always true to our slogan, 'A citizen wherever we serve.'

Pointing to the rapid development of the Augusta section in recent years, Mr. Culley said that the purchase by the Georgia Power company would be of incalculable benefit to the territory, in that it would solve the problem he and other officials of the Augusta-Aiken company long had wrestled with, that of obtaining an ample power supply, and would thereby hasten industrial expansion. He said it would also stimulate the extension of electric service to small towns and farms in the section.

"We are happy to become a part of the great Georgia Power company system which has wrought such beneficial results for the entire state of Georgia and whose vision extends in so many directions for the upbuilding of our commonwealth," Mr. Culley said.

RIBBLE MANAGER OF DIXIE OFFICE OF INTERNATIONAL

In the reorganization of the Postal Telegraph-Cable company under the new ownership of the International Telephone and Telegraph corporation, importance of Atlanta headquarters of the southern division has been emphasized by the appointment of G. W. Ribble as general manager. Mr. Ribble for some years has held the position of general superintendent. Under the broadened assignment, he will have jurisdiction over all of the Postal company's affairs in the 11 southern states, extending from the Potomac river to New Mexico. The general office will remain as at present in the 101 Marietta building.

The history of the International Telephone and Telegraph corporation, which now owns the Postal, is unique. Starting about seven years ago with a few lines in Porto Rico, it has grown until it now owns communication systems and allied manufacturing plants throughout Central and South America, Mexico, Cuba, Europe and the Orient. Its purchase, about a year ago, of the all-American Cable company and more recently of Commercial Cable and Postal Telegraph systems, making it one of the leading concerns of its kind in the world. Its reputed policy is to develop its properties to the highest possible degree, and its choice of Atlanta as the directing center of its southern activities was made after a careful review of the field.

Fatigued Carrier Pigeon Stops Over at Capitol For Rest, Food and Water

Here's a story that could be entitled "The Mystery of the State Capitol" or "Where Did It Come From and Why?"

Early Friday morning Miss Jacqueline Lindsey, of Decatur, who is employed in the office of Dr. Royal J. Miller, head of the mail order motor vehicle bureau under George H. Casswell, secretary of state, walked up the big stone steps of the capitol. Just as she reached the top step she noticed something alive and fluttering at her feet. Miss Lindsey picked it up, and it proved to be a carrier pigeon, utterly exhausted from what apparently was a long flight.

The pigeon was taken to Dr. Miller's office where it was given food and water. It soon recovered its strength, although it still is not able to resume its journey. Attached to one of the bird's legs was a tag bearing the number 18, but no message was found on the tag. The tag was loose, and it is possible that the bird was carrying a message and it became unfastened from the tag and was lost.

If the bird recovers its strength Saturday it will be released. Pigeon fanciers at the capitol stated that it would resume its journey.

TEACHERS OF POLITICS MEET HERE FEB. 11-12

Instructors From Southeast To Convene; Noted Speakers Listed on Program.

Decatur, Ga., December 14.—(Special).—Political science teachers of the southeast will assemble in Atlanta for a two-day conference, February 11-12, according to an announcement made by Dr. Philip Davidson, of Agnes Scott college, secretary of the Southeastern Political Science association. The purpose of the conference is to afford closer relationship between the political science teachers of the southeast; to provide an opportunity for discussion of political topics of nationwide interest for those teachers unable to attend the national association; to encourage research among graduate and undergraduate students of political science, and to initiate interest in meetings of this type throughout the southeast.

On the same dates the Southeastern Citizenship conference will be in session. Delegates to both conferences will hear such speakers as A. T. Polyzoides, editor of the Atlanta; Walter F. Dodd and Governor Byrd, of Virginia.

The self-constituted committee on arrangements composed of Professor C. B. Gosnell, of Emory university; Professor Philip Davidson, of Agnes Scott college; Dean A. S. Libby, of Oglethorpe university, and Professor E. B. McPhee, of Georgia Tech, has formulated no definite plans, yet, but a complete program will be announced later.

MORE ATLANTA PEOPLE TELL OF ITS POWERS

SARGON BROUGHT QUICK RECOVERY, SAYS F. A. DAVIS

Pioneer Citizen Wants Friends Here in Atlanta To Know What Sargon Has Done for Him.

"I want my friends here in Atlanta, where I have lived for 28 years, and also my old friends back at Chipley, Georgia, where I used to live, to know what these wonderful medicines—Sargon and Sargon Soft Mass Pills—have done for me."

"All my friends know how I have suffered for years with rheumatism without ever being able to get any relief. When I had to be on my feet much of the time I would suffer so I was almost past going. I am now 70 years old, and like most men of my age, I have suffered for years with chronic constipation and torpid liver. I also had a bad gall bladder. This liver and gall bladder trouble seemed to fill my whole system with poison, and I guess that is what caused my rheumatism. I am now on my second bottle of Sargon and I feel sure that this medicine has entirely removed all the poison that has been in my system for such a long time."

"The Pills have also straightened out my liver and gall bladder trouble. I am not being bothered with constipation any more, and I no longer have an ache or pain from rheumatism. My appetite is fine and I have more strength and energy than I have had in a good many years."

"I am the father of three children, and have been married 48 years. I think so much of Sargon that I have gotten my wife to start on it, and I believe it will help her just like it did me."

The above statement was made by F. A. Davis, who lives at 1081 Seaboard avenue, Atlanta, Georgia.

The Sargon representative can be seen at Jacobs' main store, 6 and 8 Marietta street, where sufferers throng daily to hear more of this epoch-making new medicine.

Mrs. Hudlow Says It Brought First And Only Relief

Atlanta Woman Was on Such Rigid Diet Could Not Keep Up Strength.

NOW FEEL AND HAPPY, SHE SAYS

"Before taking Sargon I hadn't seen a well day in a year or more. My liver was out of order and when I started the Sargon treatment I had an awful complexion. My skin was as yellow as a pumpkin, and I had pimples all over my face. I don't think my blood was normal, either, and I was almost in a state of nervous collapse."

"I had to take some strong laxative almost every day to relieve me of constipation, and I suffered constantly from biliousness. When I would stop over I would become terribly dizzy and would see dark spots before my eyes. I was just too weak for anything. A half hour's work would tire me out more than a whole day's work does since I started taking Sargon."

"I also suffered terribly from nervous indigestion and my appetite was very poor. Now for the first time in more than a year I am able to sit down at the table and enjoy a good meal. My digestion seems to be perfect. I have a good appetite and I relish my food. My complexion has cleared up and the brown spots have come from my face and arms. I am no longer nervous, and I sleep splendidly at night."

"Sargon has done so much for me that my husband is taking it also. Sargon and Sargon Soft Mass Pills are the greatest medicines I have ever used."

The above statement was made by Mrs. W. M. Copeland, who resides on Rural Route 3, near Atlanta, and she has been a resident of this city for 28 years.

New Scientific Formula Restoring Health to Thousands Here in Atlanta and Nearby Cities and Towns

IT BUILT HER UP AFTER A SEVERE ATTACK OF FLU

Sargon was introduced in Atlanta Monday, November 26. Today, only a few weeks later, it stands pre-eminent in the field of proprietary medicines in this city. Thousands are using it with the most astonishing and gratifying results and it is now a foregone conclusion that the phenomenal and unprecedented success that Sargon has achieved in scores of other cities will be repeated in Atlanta.

Reports pouring in to leading druggists daily tell of the amazing powers of this new and epoch-making formula. This mass of evidence, given by Atlanta people, fully verifies the claims of science that good health is largely maintained by the proper functioning of certain organs and fluids of the body which may be stimulated and invigorated by the health-giving ingredients contained in Sargon.

Not only in Atlanta, but in scores of other cities and towns throughout Georgia, Sargon is fulfilling its great mission.

IT BUILT HER UP AFTER A SEVERE ATTACK OF FLU

SAYS SARGON IS WONDERFUL FOR PEOPLE WHO ARE LEFT IN WEAKENED CONDITION FROM EFFECTS OF FLU.

"I want to recommend Sargon just as much as I possibly can, for I have found this medicine as different from other medicines as night is from day."

"After taking my first bottle of Sargon I was able to go down town for the first time in months. I guess my case was about the worst in Atlanta, and I said at the time I got it—if it could relieve me of my troubles and bring back my strength, that I would be the best advertisement Sargon ever had."

"I was down with the flu for about one week—that was three weeks ago. This attack left me in such a weakened condition that I simply had to let my housework go, for I was too sick to do anything. I had lost weight until I was nothing but skin and bones. My nerves were all at pieces and up to the time I began taking Sargon I had suffered constantly from nervousness. I hardly ever got to sleep before midnight, and would be up in the morning I could scarcely get out of the bed."

"A neighbor of mine had been using Sargon, and it had done her so much good that she came over one day and sold me this medicine. I have done for me what I surely have. Sargon has done more for me than anything I have ever used. Today I feel like a new person. My nerves are quiet and I am gaining back my strength every day."

The statement above is that of Mrs. Maude Stallings, who resides at 1003 Howell Mill road, Atlanta.

MUSSOLINI PRAISED

BY JOHN C. DOOLAN

Prominent Louisville Attorney Makes Address to Lawyers Club.

Benito Mussolini and the rise of the fascist movement in Italy was the subject of an interesting address before the Atlanta Lawyers' club Friday night by John C. Doolan, prominent lawyer of Louisville, Ky., who gave a brief resume of the work of the "matchless leader" and his remarkable exploit of bringing a united Italy out of the chaos which followed the world war.

Doolan was the principal speaker at the regular monthly meeting of the club which was attended by approximately 150 people. President Rembert Marshall presided.

The speaker sketched briefly the past history of Italy, pointing out that since the days of the "grandeur that was Rome," it had not been a unit and the people had been hopelessly divided.

Cavour did much to offset this, he declared, but with the start of the war, Italy found herself vacillating from one side to the other and she was criticized all over the world for trying to pick the winning side to join.

Deserts Socialists.

"It was at this point that Mussolini came forward," Mr. Doolan declared, "and it seemed nothing short of providential that such a man of destiny should be on hand at this time. A radical socialist, he saw the trend of socialism around him, deserted their ranks and became a convert to nationalism. In his own words, he was henceforward 'desperately Italian,' and by no means of a small newspaper which he started, was almost single-handedly responsible for Italy joining the cause of the allies. What the result of this great struggle would have been without his influence, no one knows."

With the close of the war, Mussolini's work was just beginning," Mr. Doolan went on, and the organization of the fascists occurred in 1919. The necessity for this was brought about, he explained, by the fact that Italy was not satisfied with the results of the Versailles treaty, and that the government was going from bad to worse.

"In 1922," he stated, "there were 300,000 fascists and 100,000 of these 'marched on Rome' and a few days later, Mussolini was made premier and later practically took over the government in his own hands."

Dosed With Castor Oil.

The work of the "black shirts" was not entirely lacking in humor, Mr. Doolan explained, and very often, red agitators were liberally dosed with castor oil in order to purge them of their radical ideas. Then, too, socialist mayors were called on by members of the fascists' organization who made it clear to them that due to their "ill health," it would be better for them to resign.

"Mussolini's life and inspiration have worked wonders with the Italian people," Mr. Doolan declared. "He has fired them with new zeal and by linking up the Italy of today with the Rome of many years ago has given them a new lease on life and a desire to work out their own salvation."

In conclusion, speaking of the durability of the Mussolini regime, Mr. Doolan declared that "fascism is a faith and where the people have embraced it as such, no one can predict how long it will be in existence."

COST ACCOUNTANTS OF ATLANTA NAME FIELD CHAIRMAN

Selection of organization committee for an Atlanta chapter of the National Association of Cost Accountants took place at a dinner meeting Friday night at the Atlanta Athletic club.

E. G. Field was named chairman, and H. G. McLean was elected secretary. The committee on meetings is composed of C. M. Watt and C. D. Harrison. The committee on publicity is composed of P. E. Glenn and J. J. Doran. Programs are in charge of O. D. Jones.

Arrangements were made for a large open meeting to be held in January to which all industrial accountants will be invited. Dr. S. C. McLeod, national secretary of the association of New York city, will be accompanied by other officers who will present an address.

Thomas B. Frank, treasurer of the Cincinnati Planer company, of Ohio, and one of the directors of the National Association of Cost Accountants, spoke at the Friday night meeting.

The association now has more than 6,000 members and is holding meetings in 32 cities in the United States and Hawaii.

GRANT PARK CLUB TO SEEK LIBRARY BRANCH, WHITE WAY

Efforts to obtain a public library branch for the third ward will be renewed during 1929, the Grant Park Boosters' club decided Friday night at its regular meeting at the Grant Park school. The club also will endeavor to get a white way and a new entrance for Girls' High school, it was announced by J. W. Rountree, A. B. Rountree, chairman, and Mr. and Mrs. William Strauss, A. A. Everett, Ben T. Huitt, J. T. Mayfield, and Mrs. H. P. O'Neil were appointed to further the effort for the library.

Charges of waste and extravagance in expenditure of school bond money, made against the Atlanta board of education by Dr. Edwin Scott, were followed by the adoption of a resolution by the executive committee of the club disapproving any attack on the board of education, the bond commission and city council.

W. A. Verney, a member of the bond commission and chairman of the meeting, replied to Dr. Scott's remarks, stating that the contracts of which he complained were let under competitive bid, and that Atlanta today has a modern school system with a K-6-3-3 rating where formerly the city had an obsolete educational plan. There are less failures now in senior high school than ever before, Mr. Verney declared.

RESOLUTION TO GUARD U. S. IN PACT OFFERED

Measure, Introduced by Moses, Goes to Foreign Relations Committee.

Washington, December 14.—(AP)—A resolution declaring American rights in respect to the Kellogg anti-war treaty and proposed for adoption with ratification of that pact was offered today by Senator Moses, republican, of New Hampshire.

The resolution goes to the foreign relations committee, which meets again on Monday to vote on the Kellogg pact.

Senator Moses, who believes he has majority support in committee for his resolution, will ask its adoption at the same time the vote is taken by the senate on the ratification of the Kellogg pact.

The resolution reads: "Resolved, That the senate of the United States declare that in advising and consenting to the multi-lateral treaty it does so with the understanding:

"1. That the treaty imposed no obligation on the United States to resort to coercive or punitive measures against any offending nation;

"2. That the treaty does not impose any limitations upon the Monroe doctrine or the traditional policies of the United States;

"3. That the treaty does not impair the right of the United States to defend its territory, possessions, trade or interests;

"4. That the treaty does not obligate the United States to the conditions of any treaty to which the United States is not a party."

Planes Common As Cars in 1938, Ford Predicts

Washington, December 14.—(United Press)—Henry Ford, billionaire automobile manufacturer of Detroit, drew aside the veil of the future today and gave his ideas of the aeronautical world in 1938 when, he predicted, airplanes may become as common as automobiles be 10 years ago.

Stopping for a few minutes while en route to the international civil aeronautics convention, the automobile manufacturer disclosed his ideas on the progress of aviation within the next decade.

Ford pictured huge airplanes humming through countless air lanes on all sections of the country; traffic lanes in the air set aside for craft of various speeds; airplanes equipped with oil burning engines; gigantic commercial craft built like dirigibles but with the wings of an airplane.

"The vision of the man who popularized the automobile saw all of these things for aviation within the next decade.

"There is no limit to the size an airplane may be built," Ford said. "Construction of gigantic machines, capable of carrying from 25 to 30 passengers and mail and express is mechanically possible.

"Large machines, rather than the flimsy type, will be the dominating influence in aviation of the near future. We have dropped our experiments with the small, individual plane and are devoting our attention to the production of larger machines."

FRENCH CHAMBER RAISES DEPUTIES' PAY 11,000 FRANCS

Paris, December 14.—(AP)—The chamber of deputies at an all-night session completed work on the 1935 budget, which was passed by a final vote of 460 to 120.

The budget provides for receipt of 45,415,151.743 francs and expenditure of 45,309,183.966 francs, leaving a balance of 45,947,777 francs.

One of the chamber's last acts was to raise the salaries of members of parliament from 49,000 to 60,000 francs. This raise carried with it the provision that after the election no member of parliament might accept a position as an officer or director of any other executive position with any financial, industrial, or commercial company. If such a position was accepted, the member must immediately resign from parliament.

New Orleans Judge Holds Federal Constitution Is Not Violated.

New Orleans, December 14.—(AP)—Police officers acting independently of federal agents may prosecute in the federal courts prohibition cases uncovered by them without a warrant, under a ruling by United States Judge Wayne C. Borah, recently appointed to the federal bench.

Judge Borah, nephew of Senator William E. Borah, of Idaho, leader of the dry forces in the United States senate, made the ruling in the case of Mrs. Edna Heidingsfelder, convicted of possessing and selling home brew.

Her counsel, Clarence Dowling, argued that the police had violated the fourth and fifth amendments of the federal constitution by searching the house without a warrant and that since the police were acting in this role of federal officers they should be amenable to federal regulations.

"Not at all," Judge Borah replied. "They were not acting as federal agents. They made the case independently, and without the cooperation of the federal officers in their capacity as police officers. There is no reason why their testimony should not be heard by the federal court."

"The United States supreme court has ruled on this. If during the remainder of the trial evidence is adduced to show that the police acted in violation of the police and prohibition agents, I will change the ruling."

Mrs. Heidingsfelder was sentenced to six months in the charge and was given an additional 18 months on two former suspended sentences.

FINAL REPORT MADE ON VESTRIS SINKING

Washington, December 14.—(AP)—Inspection of the steamship Vestris by government agents prior to its sinking last month was complete and a report today by Dickinson N. Hoover, head of the steamboat inspection service, to Secretary Whiting.

The crew of the ship failed, in the inspector general's opinion, to get away lifeboats and take other action that might have saved more of the passengers.

Inspector's Findings. "When it was seen that the ship was doomed, the master was forced to order the abandonment of the ship," the report stated. "The master, General Hoover said, was exploring the failure of the ship's pumps and the use of wireless telegraph."

It was found that the ship had been in the water for some time before the sinking. The ship was found to be in poor condition and the crew was not properly trained.

Tom Loughran Hopes to Beat Boy Peterson

Light-Heavy Titleholder Says Real Contenders Due for Action.

BY TOMMY LOUGHRAN, Light-Heavyweight Champion of the World. (Copyright, 1928, by the North American Newspaper Alliance.)

New York, December 14.—(Special)—Monday night I'm going to make a bet along among the heavyweights. I make my bet in Chicago against Big Boy Peterson, rated as one of the best big fellows in the United States.

The reason I make this bet is because of the east when he won on a foul from Paulino at Madison Square Garden, New York.

But his bet is not a bet, they tell me, but I'm quite willing to go on with the hardest punches they've got. So long as the New York commission insists on not permitting me to mingle with the heavyweights in that state, I can keep busy outside outside its boundaries.

Clash Heavy Title. The Peterson fight is one of a series I'm aiming at to cinch the heavyweight title by next summer.

Tech Faculty Refuses Band Permission To Visit Coast

Public Drive To Get Funds Discontinued

College Officials Frown on Move and Deny Organization To Make Trip.

A large rosy bubble has been burst by about 60 musically inclined college boys out at Georgia Tech. The faculty executive committee, which had been asked to permit the school to allow the Tech band to go to California, has refused.

The announcement came directly from Dean W. V. Sikes. There are several reasons for the action of the committee. In the first place it was thought by the faculty that the public should not be asked to furnish the amount of money necessary to transport the band to the coast. This figure was tentatively set at something over $15,000 and was believed by authorities that such a figure was too large.

Other Reasons. There was also a matter of scholastic work that might be missed by the members of the band but this reason was not set out definitely in the announcement.

The veto placed on the trip by the faculty interrupted the drive to raise funds for the band pilgrimage. Shortly after it was announced that the band would go to the Pacific coast, several business men, led by W. H. Poole, started a drive to procure funds for taking the band and the movement had rapidly gained headway until Friday it was announced by Mr. Poole that the sum was nearly raised.

Mr. Poole said Friday night that all of the money would be returned to donors.

Theaters to Help. The Metropolitan theater, Loew's Capitol theater and the Rialto theater were all planning benefit performances of one kind or another and other business houses were deeply interested in the movement. Several firms had already pledged considerable sums to the movement and individuals were responding freely.

But it's all over now. The band can't make the trip, and that's all there is to that. It could, of course, go out as a party of individuals, but wouldn't be a Georgia Tech band nor have Tech uniforms. So it's all off. We have the word of the faculty on the matter and they have the last word in such things.

METROPOLITAN DROPS PLANS FOR SHOW.

In view of the fact that the Tech faculty has decreed that the band will not be sent to the coast for the California game, the benefit mid-night performance scheduled for Sunday at the Metropolitan has been called off. It was announced Friday night by Carter Barron, manager of the theater.

The Only Plan.

THERE'S just one way left for Coach William A. Alexander to be sure he has a normally sturdy squad to take to California. The boys—those of them who are not yet in the hospital—should be called together this afternoon, 25 ambulances should be backed up to the gate of Grant field and some really expert "exposer" should squirt all the players with "flu" germs from a blow gun. As they drop over the ambulances could haul them to the hospital and by the time the team is ready to leave next week all would be sufficiently recovered to hop the rattler.

With her usual exasperating deliberation Nature is popping the boys over one and two at a time and will hardly get the job finished by leaving time. It is entirely possible if not probable that some valuable members of the squad will have to be left here when the special cars pull out next week. This fairly mild form of "flu" that is scourging the country nowadays may be taken as a joke up to a certain point but if the bugs get in some of the jacket lungs just in time to put some varsity men in the hospital it ceases to be funny.

At the present writing at least eight members of the Tech squad are in the hospital trying to keep "flu" bugs from making a touchdown and as many others are sheltering colds that furnish a very fine field of battle for the bugs.

Good News.

IT FINALLY appears that William Lawrence Stribling has found somebody who isn't afraid to fight him for gold. The announcement that William Lawrence will fight Jack Sharkey at Miami Beach this winter is accepted with considerable glee by followers of the Georgia youth.

In truth, it should be a great battle. Sharkey and Stribling are now admitted to be the cream of the heavyweight with the possible exception of the rapidly aging James Harrison Dempsey, who will probably meet the winner of this battle in the finals of Tex Rickard's wobbly elimination contest.

This battle points toward the certain return of Dempsey to the ring. Jack is smart enough to know that he is a great drawing card. He will not fight for any such split as he could get out of a battle with any of the present contenders. However, if Stribling, for example, could kupo Jack Sharkey in a few rounds or beat him to an artistic pulp what a house Mr. Rickard could draw by matching the Manassa Mauler and William Lawrence.

Deserved Praise.

GOING back through the files we fail to find any man who was placed on more "All-America" football selections than Captain Peter Pund of Georgia Tech's Tornado. Which is exactly as it should be. Probably never in the history of the south has any greater center dug his cleats into Dixie soil. Peter's latest honor is his selection at center on Grantland Rice's All-America team.

Certainly, never has an All-America football player taken his flood of praise with better grace. Peter Pund always has been and probably always will be a handsome boy whose ability in athletics is only surpassed by his modesty. Personally there never was a finer man in football uniform or out than Peter Pund and he deserves all he gets in the form of praise.

R. O. T. C. UNITS OPEN FOOTBALL SEASON TODAY

BY HERB CLARK.

The Tech Flats will ring with the noise incidental to the progress of a real football game again this afternoon, though the Jackets have finished their season, and are in for nothing more strenuous or crowd-producing than a few light practices, which will start Monday afternoon, and will be kept up until the Jackets leave on their trip to the coast for the California game.

The occasion of the fuss will be the opening of the Battalion grid schedule. The lid will be pried off by the Signal Corps and the Coast Artillery outfits, who meet at 1 p. m. The Infantry and the Ordnance come on the field at 3 o'clock in the game which completes the activities for the first day.

The Signal Corps should win the first game by a comfortable margin, although the Artillerymen have a well-balanced squad which has played together in previous years and will be out for the honors from the starting whistle. The Infantry, with a fast, heavy team, will probably have an easy day with the Ordnance.

The Battalion now draws its players from the long list of those at the North Avenue school, who are not quite good enough to make one of the bigger squads, but produces plenty of action and good games in spite of this fact. The coaching staffs are members of the varsity as a rule, though a few Gray Devils and freshmen find their way into the memorial camps.

NO ELECTION OF CAPTAINS AT U. OF MINN.

MINNEAPOLIS, December 14.—(AP)—To eliminate "political" selections of all athletic captains at the University of Minnesota hereafter will be made by coaches of the various teams.

The plan, an innovation in the Big Ten, was announced by the student senate committee on intercollegiate athletics at the annual football banquet last night. It came just as secret ballots naming the football captain for 1929 were to be opened and it created a sensation.

In explaining the move, the senate committee issued a statement, which read in part:

"The selection of a captain to lead a Minnesota team in intercollegiate athletics is so fixed a custom and embraces so much in the way of tradition that it is not one to be taken slightly or discontinued without thoughtful consideration. Yet it is the opinion of your senate committee on intercollegiate athletics that the time has come when the interests of the University of Minnesota and Minnesota's intercollegiate competition will be better served by the discontinuance of the custom."

Accordingly, your committee has ruled, as is its prerogative, that in the future there will be no election of captains of athletic teams at the University of Minnesota, but that in lieu thereof the head coach in each sport will name a captain for each game as the season progresses. It is thought that this appointment may be rotated from game to game in accordance with the best judgment of the coach—possibly this rotation may be among seniors who are on the team.

"There has come to your committee within the past few weeks unimpeachable evidence that politics has entered into the election which was to have been announced hereafter. Outside influences of a very dangerous character, especially the influence of fraternities and other organizations have been brought to bear in a manner inimical to the best interest of an athletic team representing this institution."

"It is submitted, that if the present situation were continued to a logical conclusion that we might well expect in some future year to have Minnesota players feel as they go into a game that they are representing a certain fraternity on the field of athletics rather than the University of Minnesota in intercollegiate games."

Try This on Your Mat; Sonnenberg Busy Man

Boston, December 14.—(AP)—Gus Sonnenberg, of Providence, R. I., former Dartmouth football star and now a professional wrestler, has gone a long way this week toward proving the contention of his supporters that he is the Miracle Man of the mat.

Since Monday he has vanquished four doughty opponents in as many nights.

Last night he disposed of Farmer George McLeod, of California, here in two falls.

On Wednesday night he took the measure of Ned Maguire, Boston heavyweight, in a two-fall bout at Worcester, while on Tuesday he flattened Joe De Vito at Providence. De Vito was unable to continue after the first fall.

Sonnenberg started off the week at Lawrence by throwing Frank Yuskof, of Lithuania.

Minors Cancel Draft Session For Jan. 10

Majors Successfully Stop Move To Alter Rule; Refuse To Attend.

Chicago, December 14.—(AP)—The American and National league club owners have played havoc with the minor leagues' hopes of formulating a reconciliation program at West Baden, Ind., January 10.

Instead of lining up with the minors' proposition of a peace meeting in January, the majors, in their joint meeting here yesterday, turned thumbs down on the proposal. As the result there will be no meeting between the two leagues and the minor agreement will have to do for another year.

Reason Is Given. The minors' failure to outline a definite plan of reform at Toronto was given by the majors as the reason for deciding against sending a committee to the conference.

They did not give minor league proponents of the plan an opportunity to explain why there should be a conference but when the vote was taken not a supporter of the minors could be found among the club owners.

And what is the use of a meeting if the most important personage is absent, said minor league officials. Cal Ewing, owner of the Oakland club of the Pacific Coast league, and one of the supporters of a new major-minor agreement, said he saw no use of convening if the minors were to be represented.

Thomas J. Hickey, president of the American association, said there would be no meeting, as nothing would come of it. The American association has led the fight against the present draft system.

Questions Revived. Although the joint meeting produced nothing of a startling nature, it opened some old questions and provided the hot stove league.

Besides the few trades, releases and purchases between the majors and minors and the setting of the opening and closing dates a week later, Commissioner Landis issued his "big stick" over the heads of the clubs that own "farms." He demanded every team inform the commissioner of any interest it had in clubs of minor circuits.

Commissioner Landis is said to favor the proposal that the minors that the majors keep their hands off all smaller circuits.

The commissioner said he was pleased with the peace and harmony of the joint meeting.

Von Porat Sues Boxing Promoter

CHICAGO, December 14.—(AP)—Otto Von Porat, New German heavyweight boxer, today filed a $50,000 suit against Miquel Malloy, boxing promoter.

Von Porat charges Malloy caused him to fight a fight which he stated in "Big Boy" Peterson, of Minneapolis, had defeated him twice. Von Porat alleged he has never been defeated by Peterson.

Grant Changes Mind And Will Box Again

New York, December 14.—(AP)—Leonard Grant, guard of New York university's football team, has changed his mind and will defend his intercollegiate heavyweight boxing championship.

Grant decided a few weeks ago that he didn't like the honor and had enough of it. He stuck by this decision for a few days, traveling to the N. Y. U. boxing team's headquarters and watching the fight between former teammates in action.

Five days ago the urge was too much for him so he donned gloves, entered the ring and fought for ten minutes. After that he decided boxing wasn't so bad a sport after all. He plans to begin active training next week.

Soccer Pays Well; Italians Make Money

Rome, December 14.—(AP)—Soccer football, rated a minor sport in most American colleges and not productive of big gate receipts in the professional field, has just netted the Italian state a profit of a million lire, $52,651, as a voluntary offering from the Italian soccer federation.

The 1928 season was so successful that the federation, after paying all its taxes and expenses, found that it had a large surplus. With the approval of the directing board, signed by Leandro Argenti, president of the federation, bought 1,000,000 lire worth of government bonds out of his surplus and sent them to President Mussolini to be destroyed as the contribution of soccer football toward reducing the country's internal debt.

Conference Asked To Bar Post-Season Games Except Shrine Charity Contest

Request Made To Halt Tilt On New Year's

Officials Told by Gregg That Order Wants Affair Only If Given It Exclusively.

Nashville, Tenn., December 14.—(AP)—Duke university tonight was admitted to the southern conference, bringing the total membership to 23 institutions. Baton Rouge, La., was selected as the 1929 meeting city of the conference. Date of the conference next year will be set later.

BY HORACE C. RENEGAR, Associated Press Sports Editor.

Nashville, Tenn., December 14.—(AP)—The southern conference all-star football game to have been played between a team of the upper division of the conference and one from the lower, in all probability will be staged New Year's day, 1930, instead of next year.

At the opening session of its annual meeting today the conference heard Robert Gregg, of Atlanta, one of the sponsors of the game for charity, ask that it be deferred a year because of Georgia Tech's absence on the Pacific coast. The game would be played off at Atlanta.

Must Be Voted On. While the executive committee of the conference last September gave the plan approval in principle, it yet must be acted upon by the body as a whole. Such a decision is due to come up at the meeting tomorrow.

Gregg, in asking for postponement, said that as interest in Atlanta naturally centered at present around the football season, that he thought a better start would be made by waiting a year. The proceeds of the game would go to the Scottish Rite Hospital for Crippled Children in the south. He said, however, that medals would be given the players this year, just as if they had played.

Gregg also added that he with it clearly understood that if the conference gave approval to the game for 1930 that it was to be understood that no other post-season game would be played in which conference players would participate.

Annual Affair. "Neither do we want the game unless it is to be granted as an annual affair," he declared. "It shouldn't be worth the effort for only one year."

At the afternoon session several amendments were proposed to the constitution. One of these would substitute the "twenty-three" for the number 22 to which the conference limits its members. Favorable action on this amendment would pave the way for Duke university's entrance into the conference. This subject is expected to reach a final decision tomorrow.

Another amendment would allow graduated of junior colleges to play football their first year in conference institutions, thus giving them two years to develop before entering the conference. This subject is expected to reach a final decision tomorrow.

Dr. S. V. Sanford, conference president, in naming committees today appointed Dr. W. M. Hemingway, of the University of Mississippi, athletic director of the state of Virginia; Dr. H. N. Edmunds, of the University of South Carolina; Dr. M. J. White, of Tulane, and Dr. J. H. Neff, of the University of Virginia, as a committee on constitutions.

Committee Named. He named Dr. W. M. Hemingway, of the University of Mississippi, athletic director of the state of Virginia; Dr. H. N. Edmunds, of the University of South Carolina; Dr. M. J. White, of Tulane, and Dr. J. H. Neff, of the University of Virginia, as a committee on constitutions.

W. D. Chadwick, athletic director at Mississippi A. and M.; Wallace Wade, University of Alabama, coach; Coach Bill Raftery of Virginia Military institute; Athletic Director S. A. Boles, of the University of Kentucky; Coach W. A. Alexander, of Georgia Tech, and Coach Dan McGugin, of Vanderbilt, are chairman of the football committee of the conference.

Athletic Director H. J. Stegeman, of the University of Georgia, was appointed head of the basketball committee; Ellis Brown, of the University of Virginia, again heads the boxing committee; Coach Dan McGugin, of Vanderbilt, is chairman of the football committee of the conference.

Girl Hockey Teams Will Play Saturday

Nashville, Tenn., December 14.—(AP)—Peabody college and the University of Louisville will meet here Saturday afternoon in what is believed to be the first inter-city college game in the south between women's hockey teams.

Peabody and Ward-Belmont are the only two southern schools that have hockey for the weaker sex, as far as local records show. Neither has played an out-of-town team. For the past few years, these two colleges have been staging annual games. They have met twice this season and each holds a victory.

Louisville brings a strong team here, according to word from the Falls City. It is a game well worth seeing is expected.

Four New Players Bought by Missions

San Francisco, December 14.—(AP)—Determined to build the Missions baseball club of the Pacific Coast league into a formidable outfit for the 1929 season, Wade Kilgiff, manager of the club, today announced the acquisition of four new players.

Included in the new pastime are two outfielders, Walter Christensen, purchased from the Columbus club of the American association, and Floyd Scott, acquired from the Pittsburgh Pirates. Christensen, who makes his home in Oakland, came to the Bells in the deal that sent Evar Swanson, fleet centerfielder, to the Cincinnati Reds. The Reds own the Columbus club.

The two other players added to the team are Freddie Hoffman, catcher, formerly with the Boston Red Sox, and Bert Cole, left-handed pitcher, who hurried this year for the Seattle club of the coast league.

BRAVES ASK AID FROM LEAGUE, ANTIQUE IVORY IS PRESENTED

BY FRANK GETTY.

United News Sports Editor.

New York, December 14.—(United News).—At each of the three big baseball gatherings of the past fortnight, it was noticeable that managers and magnates showed reluctance to release their younger players, either in trades or sales, whereas you could have nearly any old timer at your own price.

There was a general disposition to assist in strengthening the Boston Braves, who are in a bad way and somewhat of a disgrace to the National league. But no one noticed rival owners sending Judge Fuchs any capable youngsters. The Cardinals sent two young players to the Browns in exchange for a pitcher, while the New York Yankees chipped in Pat Collins, who is fair, fat and 30.

The truth of the matter is that the crop of young ball players in the major leagues is better than ever. A score of first-year men turned into stars in a single season during 1928. As many now places as regulars during their first year in last company. Some were even declared the most valuable players on their teams, something rare indeed in baseball. Once in a while a Ty Cobb breaks into the majors and makes good with a crash during his first season, but it is unusual to have it happen in wholesale lots as was the case this summer.

Utility infielder, Maguire, Cubs' Braves Kress, Browns utility outfielder, Callaghan, Reds Taitt, Red Sox: With the exception of Maguire, no manager parted willingly with any of the above, and Joe McCarthy had to let Freddy go to the Braves as part of the deal which took Rogers Hornsby to Chicago.

Maguire, incidentally, had to fill "Sparky" Adams' shoes at Chicago last summer, and now draws an even more difficult assignment in replacing Hornsby at Boston. Kress was one of the brilliant young keystone combination which did so much to put the Browns near the top in the American league. Bettencourt was named by a number of experts as all-America center for 1927 and stepped right from a college position on the Pacific coast to a berth in last company among the best in professional baseball. Del Bissonette did as much as anyone, with the exception of Dazzy Vance, to keep Brooklyn from falling right out of the National league. Whitney was one of the best infielders in the circuit, and a great boom to Philadelphia. As for the pitchers, any manager could take the six named above and come close to winning a pennant.

COACH WILCE LEAVES POST AT OHIO STATE

Columbus, Ohio, December 14.—(AP)—Dr. John W. Wilce, who for 16 years has coached Ohio state university's football team, sang his swan song last night but, as he put it, he "felt more like an eagle screaming the 'Mars' than a swan turning down into stars in a single season during 1928. As many now places as regulars during their first year in last company. Some were even declared the most valuable players on their teams, something rare indeed in baseball. Once in a while a Ty Cobb breaks into the majors and makes good with a crash during his first season, but it is unusual to have it happen in wholesale lots as was the case this summer."

Before the Franklin County Alumni Association of Ohio State, gathered to honor him with a farewell banquet, Dr. Wilce announced that he would be leaving to become a practicing physician here after a year's study in Europe and America.

Dismissing a formal written speech as "too stilted," Dr. Wilce asked permission to "grow mellow for just a few minutes and I will talk as I have never talked before."

"I want to apologize for a pose I have worn for 16 years," he said. "All the time I have seemed to have been confident in my ability than I really had. I am not apologizing for things done in a coaching way, and I say this not in egotism, but you have had in all these 16 years as good a coach as there is in the conference."

"I leave the football situation at Ohio State convinced more firmly than ever before of the soundness of the policy there during the past 16 years. I can point to half a dozen conference games we could have won had we wished to change our policies."

Dr. Wilce reviewed each of his 16 seasons at Ohio State, the high spots and the low. He told of the fight to establish Ohio State in the western conference; the "Harley era" from 1910 to 1913, age of Ohio State's most brilliant victories; the last Big Ten battle in 1920 which practically closed the "before stadium era;" the unrelenting seasons of 1922 to 1925 when the team was overawed by the immensity of the new stadium, and the 1926 team, "one of the best," which almost reached title heights.

Paavo Nurmi Lands Today; Trip Mystery

Famous Finn Runner May Compete as Professional; Keeps His Plans Secret.

BY ALAN J. GOULD.

Associated Press Sports Writer.

New York, December 14.—(AP)—Paavo Nurmi is due in tomorrow, but the boys who have been scanning the gangplanks for the celebrated Finn won't believe it until they see him.

Even then it may not be possible right away to determine whether Nurmi intends to run here as an amateur, professional or perhaps try both in the order named. Paavo has always had a habit of keeping his affairs to himself and there is no reason to suppose he has become any more communicative than before, when he did little or no talking but a lot of eloquent foot racing.

The best guess, among Nurmi's closest friends here, including Hugo Quist, is that Paavo will remain an amateur for the time being, competing in two or three special indoor meets in New York and possibly Boston or Chicago. After that he may consider a professional offer, but Quist is firm in the belief that Nurmi is anxious for one more record-breaking outdoor season as an amateur.

Edwin Wide and Willie Ritola, who have made up with Nurmi in running big three with Nurmi in the 1924, as well as the 1928 games, will be on hand to give Nurmi some competition. Jole Ray is out of the amateur picture, but Leo Lemmond, a sensation indoors last winter, is ready to represent the home-bred talent.

Ray's turn to the Olympic distance in 1927 when his team had a disastrous season, finishing close to the cellar in the championship race. He and his supporters asked for one more chance and it was granted despite the opposition.

He more than made good during the recent championship race. His team was in the running for the title up to the last second of play. His reward came yesterday when Iowa athletic officials announced his retention as coach.

Ingwersen was one of the best ball carriers ever to wear the Orange and Blue of Illinois.

BURGESS CHILDREN'S STORIES

WIDE OPEN TEMPTATION. BUSTER BEAR MAKES A CALL. Where curiosity doth lead. For caution there is greatest need. —Old Mother Nature.

Curiosity is a terrible master. Ask Peter Rabbit if this isn't so. He knows. Curiosity drives one to do things that one knows better than to do. It always has been so and I suppose it always will be so.

Just take the case of Buster Bear. He had watched two men build a queer little house deep in the woods. It was built all of logs. Curiosity had led him to go over there and investigate that house as soon as the men left. He had found one end wide open. But the man smell had been so strong that he hadn't quite dared to go inside, although curiously and the smell of pig meat had urged him to do so. He had left that little house, but curiosity had urged him back there late the next afternoon, and then he had discovered that the little house was a Bobcat. His nose told him that. Then curiosity had prompted him to hang around until the following morning. One of the builders of that little house had arrived, bringing with him a terrible gun. He had opened the door to that little house, but he had left on going to his home in the ledge, without finding out what had happened at that queer little house. Now curiosity was urging him to go back.

Curiosity drove Buster to investigate a little more fully and he had discovered that inside that little house was a Bobcat. His nose told him that. Then curiosity had prompted him to hang around until the following morning. One of the builders of that little house had arrived, bringing with him a terrible gun. He had opened the door to that little house, but he had left on going to his home in the ledge, without finding out what had happened at that queer little house. Now curiosity was urging him to go back.

"You ought to know just what happened over there," whispered Curiosity. "If you're wise you'll keep away from there," whispered Curiosity. "It won't do any harm to go over near enough to look it over," whispered Curiosity.

"That Cat got into trouble, and you may," whispered Curiosity. But in the end Curiosity won. Buster couldn't resist. So along late in the afternoon he cautiously approached that queer little house of logs. The first thing he noticed was that the front door was open. In fact, it was the only door. Now it was exactly as it was when the two men had left it the day they made it. Buster sat at a safe distance and stared long and hard.

"Of course, that Cat isn't in there now," said Buster to himself. "I wonder what became of him. I won-

NO WORD RECEIVED HERE OF HOLIDAY FOR U. S. WORKERS

No official notification has been received by postoffice authorities here for the special order of President Coolidge granting a holiday to all government employees Monday, December 24, Postmaster E. K. Large stated Friday night. To put such an order into effect would mean great congestion of the mail service by allowing mail to accumulate from Saturday before Christmas until the following Wednesday.

"I have received no word of such an order," Mr. Large stated, "but in the event that it is received, of course we have no alternative in the matter."

Mrs. Alberta Campbell Granted Total Divorce From R. O. Campbell

Final verdict, and decree for total divorce was granted in Fulton superior court Friday in the case of Mrs. Alberta Lewis Campbell, vs. Richard Orme Campbell.

The item of alimony was not involved in the petition for divorce, as all liability for temporary and permanent alimony had been settled by amicable agreement between the parties to the case, which agreement was made the subject matter of a separate decree.

Plaintiff's petition for divorce was uncontested, and under the final verdict and decree the disabilities of both parties were removed.

The mother who could not keep her family well

IT SEEMED as if there was always someone feeling out-of-sorts. Not exactly sick but languid—indifferent to food and irritable. And her husband, who used to enjoy the best of health, was now constantly tired and often discouraged and worried. What could be the matter? was her constant question.

Many a family, due to the lack of bulk in the diet, suffers from constipation. And this evil scourge undermines health and strength—even hope and happiness. It brings throbbing heads and aching backs, dragging feet and slumping shoulders. It often finally leads to untold suffering and disease.

Fortunately thousands of women have found the way to save their families from the evils of constipation. By serving Kellogg's ALL-BRAN—that healthful cereal—in some form every day, constipation is safely relieved and prevented.

It takes "all-bran" to be 100% effective

It is bulk or roughage that combats constipation. ALL-BRAN is practically all-bulk because it is 100 per cent bran. It is so effective. This bulk absorbs moisture and carries it throughout the digestive system. At the Guaranteed! Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is sold with this definite guarantee: Eat it according to directions. If it does not relieve constipation, we will refund the purchase price.

But don't take chances with part-bran substitutes. At best, they can prove but partially effective. Insist on genuine Kellogg's—the original ALL-BRAN. Sold by all grocers. Served at hotels, restaurants, cafeterias. On diners. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

THE YOUNG PRETENDERS

By Alice Grant Rosman

SYNOPSIS.

Lying helpless in bed after a motor accident, Hugo Donaldson broods because his father, with whom he's quarreled just before the smash, never visits him. He decides he must be dead. Lady Eleanor Wins, his aunt, tells him that his friend, Paul Molyneux, is in prison for stealing; that he married a girl of whom his family disapproved; and that Bunny Molyneux is heartbroken because she expected to marry him.

Bunny calls to tell Hugo she believes Paul has been the victim of blackmailers. She is shocked that his family failed him. The girl assures Hugo she was never engaged to Paul, but would like to help him because of their lifelong friendship. Hugo gives her his red roadster, which he calls Miss Trotter.

Paul's wife, living in disguise, as Mrs. Halsett, accepts an offer to read to Hugo every day. She is glad to have an opportunity to study the friends of Paul, whom she believes his enemies, and is surprised to learn that Hugo is loyal, and only his accident has prevented him from helping Paul. Right, Hugo's nurse, cautions Mrs. Halsett never to mention the boy's father, as the sight of Sir Richard so disturbed Hugo while delirious that the doctors advise his keeping away.

Hugo and his reader become fast friends, and Bunny is the only visitor he is always glad to see. He asks her for the newspaper cuttings about his accident, which the family has refused him. He finds the stories contain no hint of the quarrel with his father over the disgrace of his being sent down from Oxford and he decides Sir Richard has not forgiven him and has ordered him shut away in a lunatic asylum.

The elders insist Bunny has been fitted and needs pity, which so enrages Hugo that he schemes to stop the gossip and his own novel idea of announcing that he and Bunny have been secretly married some time. The girl joins him gleefully in the conspiracy, and then thrills him with a kiss.

INSTALLMENT XXXVI. LETTER FROM HELEN MOSTYN TO PAUL, UNPOSTED.

My Dearest Paul: I have had two frights today, but fate has been kind, for nothing came of them after all. I am not really a good conspirator or I should be less of a coward and perhaps more useful to you, for though there have been many opportunities to ask what you people mean to do next, I have not been able to put the question to Hugo Donaldson.

Yet I am glad to have taken the post, quite apart from the excellent salary, for he seems to like having me there. He has asked me to come on Sundays and I had not the heart to refuse him, though I know it may be dangerous since his father will probably be in the house. Saturday, however, is equally risky for I met him and actually had to talk to him this afternoon, and I still shiver when I remember how terrified I was that he would know me in spite of my disguise.

Hugo wanted a book from his old bedroom downstairs and asked me to go and get it for him. He had been so strange and bitter all the morning and so utterly unlike himself that I was worried about him, but no doubt it was merely one of the phases of his illness.

It was useless to argue with him, so I crept downstairs and into the room he had described to me, and there to my horror I found Sir Richard, leaning over his writing table with his head in his hands. I thought I had made a mistake and was backing out again, but he jumped to his feet and called me back, asking what I wanted.

Fortunately the blind was half down and the room rather dark. I disguised my voice as well as I could and explained that Mr. Donaldson wanted one of his books, but perhaps this was not the right room. He said, "Yes, yes," in a confused kind of way, showed me the bookcase and said he was just going downstairs and would leave me to find what I wanted. Then he said, "You are new here, perhaps? I don't recognize you." He thought me a servant, fortunately, so I said, "Yes, sir, I come to read to Mr. Donaldson every day."

When I remembered how fierce he had been as your counsel—or your father's counsel, Paul—I was amused at the difference. He seemed so grateful to me for reading to his son and thanked me as though it were a favor and not a paid position. Then he said, "You will be good enough not to mention to my son that you found me here. It might upset him."

NOAH NUMSKULL

IT WON'T BE LONG NOW!

DEAR NOAH—IF YOU SMOKE A CIGAR AS LONG AS YOU CAN, DO YOU SMOKE IT AS SHORT AS YOU CAN?

FRANK C. BURNS
AVONDALE ESTATES, GA.

DEAR NOAH—IF WERE A DOCTOR, WOULD YOU SUGGEST I HANDLE WINDOW PANES AND PILLOW CASES?

ROBERT OVERLY
PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Looking back I know it was pathetic, but at the moment I could only remember why Hugo was angry with his father, and how just his anger was. I assured him that Lady Donaldson had already warned me to be careful, and he nodded and said, "Yes, yes, of course. Thank you," and went away.

It took me some time to recover my courage, for I was trembling at the knees and was afraid Hugo would notice it. Then I caught sight of a photograph of you, my dear, in a cricketer group with Hugo and some other boys, and I wanted to cry. You looked so splendid and I was so proud of you, and miserable, because it came home to me again that I had taken you out of the world to which you belong, where you were happy and successful and untroubled. How can I ever make it up to you?

I went back to Hugo at last, and your friend Bunny Molyneux came in before my time was up, and I was allowed to go. It was a relief for she had already given me one shock to-day, the other fright I mentioned.

I was going to the bank to leave these letters to you for safe keeping and to see if any had been sent from our old address. (There were none.) I was expecting unless a further communication from Sir Richard on behalf of your people, which I dread to receive.)

However, within a stone's throw of the bank I caught sight of Miss Molyneux, just going in, so I turned and fled, thankful that I had not been seen. It had never occurred to me that she—in fact any number of your friends—might use the same bank as you, but now I realize it is dangerous for me to go there, and there is no one I can trust to send. I must think of some other way of getting any letters there may be for me, and in the meantime I shall keep these for you locked in my trunk.

Luckily my landlady is incapable of prying among the belongings of her lodger, though she is evidently curious about me and would like me to confide in her. I have told her and her son, Henry, as I have already told your friend Hugo, that my husband is abroad at present, and I added that I had written to you about my work and the kindness of my landlady and her son, and that you were delighted.

"My husband writes to me through his bank," I said, to explain why no letters come for me to the house. "We arranged that because I did not know I should find such comfortable lodgings when he went away."

Henry looked most gratified, and being a good business man, his estimation of you went up because you had a bank, I could see.

O, my dear, the world is very odd. These kind people upon whom we have no claim whatever would take us both, I am sure, at our face value and help you if they could as well as me. And when I think of all our friends who have forsaken and belied you, I begin to wonder whether after all.

Hearts just as rich and rare. May be found in Belgrave square As in the lovely air

Of See Dick.

My mother, who was a darling, used to say that prejudice, patronage, and pessimism towards the rich were the cherished hall marks of the great English middle class who are the biggest snobs in the world, and that to argue from one's own small experience was a sign of limited intelligence and inordinate conceit. I am belying her teaching dreadfully, or should do, but for your friend Hugo who is the dearest boy but one I have ever known.

The section of society that produced you both cannot be utterly heartless and diabolical as in my worst moments I try to believe.

Lady Donaldson asked me this afternoon whether Hugo ever spoke to me of his father. I said no, which was the truth, though I should have made the same answer in any event.

Yet, thinking it over since, his silence does seem strange, for he has mentioned so many other people to me in the few days we have been friends.

It means, I believe, that his bitterness against his father is deeper than I had imagined. If it were not for his treatment of you I could feel sorry for Sir Richard, sitting in the boy's old room and not daring to go near his son.

Good night, my darling. I am thinking of you always and loving you and counting the days.

PAGEANT AND DANCE RAILWAY CLERKS HOLD GIVEN BY SHRINERS DANCE AND RECEPTION

Impressive Ceremonial Staged Friday Night at City Auditorium.

Closing with a grand desert pageant and dance at the city auditorium nobles of Yarnab temple of the Shrine Friday staged an impressive ceremony which began at the Masonic temple shortly after noon and included a parade of the divan through the downtown streets of the city.

Families of duly accredited nobles were admitted to the auditorium at 8:30 o'clock, after the ceremonial, in order to witness the desert pageant and take part in the dance.

In exemplifying the first and third sections of the ritualistic work in the Scottish Rite apartments, where it was felt the ceremony could be performed with more dignity than in the wide area of the auditorium, Illustrious Potentate Law introduced an innovation in local Shrine work. Candidates Friday reported to Recorder Argard in the Scottish Rite classroom at 2:30 o'clock and the degree work began at 3:30.

Following this work, the divan, with all of the uniformed organizations, candidates and nobles, formed at the temple and marched directly to the auditorium, where a buffet luncheon was served. The famous second section of the ritual was then started, continuing from 6 to 8 o'clock.

The desert pageant depicted the pilgrimage of an oriental potentate across the sands of the desert to Mecca, attended by soldiers, musicians, harem and retainers. The caravan camps at nightfall and the potentate and his officials are entertained in lavish oriental style.

The dancing which followed the pageant was a regular Christmas dance of Yarnab temple.

H. J. Chapman, Vice President of Grand Lodge, Makes Address.

With more than 700 members of the lodge and friends present, the first organization dance and reception of Washington Lodge No. 943, Brotherhood of Railway Clerks, was held Friday night in the hall room of the Baltimore hotel, following the annual meeting and election of officers of the lodge held Thursday night.

Railway clerks from every railroad office in the city were present, with Washington lodge, composed entirely of clerks of the Southern railway, acting as host. The majority of members present were employees recently removed from Washington, it was said, since the large group brought here compose the majority of the lodge.

Speaker of honor at the reception-dance was H. J. Chapman, of New York, vice grand president of the grand lodge of railway clerks. Other speakers were L. W. Reigel, of Chattanooga, general chairman of the Southern railway system board of adjustments, and C. E. Calvert, president of Washington lodge.

Annular election of the lodge was held Thursday night on the roof garden of the Hotel Ansley. C. E. Calvert was elected president; O. C. Fuller, vice president; and F. H. Steffler, secretary-treasurer.

Mr. Reigel, who came to Atlanta especially for the meeting and reception-dance, spoke on "Conditions Concerning Clerks Throughout the Southern Railway System."
